

March 31, 1942.

Mr. Edward E. Robinson,
College Ave.,
Yardley, Pa.

Dear Mr. Robinson:

I am in receipt of your letter of March 24th. From its contents I imagine your Uncle must have misunderstood me. What I had said to him was that I would take you to Camp, and if you made my team, I would of course paid your training expenses. If you did not make my team, but some other Club, which was more in need of replacement than The Eagles, would take you, I would get them to pay me back the training camp expenses. If, however, you were not ready to play in our League at this time, I would expect you to pay half of your expenses.

As you can imagine we cannot afford to take every man to camp who asks us to, we only take rookies upon recommendation of someone whose word we feel we can accept. We were willing to take this chance with you, as your Uncle seemed so sure of your ability. Maybe when the Team returns you can work out with them at sometime. If you are interested, get in touch with me.

Very truly yours,

EM:C CJ